

Patterns Name	Patterns Usage
Observer	We use observer pattern in the main frame where we display list of accounts and their corresponding balance
Party	We use party pattern to generalize the types of customer and to acheive P2I through the concrete sub types as Person and Company
Account	In our design we have used account pattern by adding entry (transaction) to default account
Strategy	We have used strategy pattern to delegate the different types of ways to notify users about the changes made in their account
AbstractFactory	We use Abstract Factory Pattern to create a closely related dialogs (frame)
Functor	We use functor pattern to pass the message and the condition for sending notification on transaction into default account